The Proactive Correction of the Predispositions to Disease with Homeopathy

By Frank J. King, ND, DC

Almost everyone has a member affected by one of the major killers on the planet: cancer, heart disease or diabetes. It’s not uncommon to carry this concern in the back of one’s mind about his or her own susceptibilities - both personally and for other family members.

Homeopathy is a powerful, deep-acting healing art and scientific system of healthcare designed to correct our genetic predispositions to disease. Homeopathy is a natural, 200 year old, pharmaceutical science that uses very small or infinitesimal doses of substances from the plant, mineral, or animal kingdom to activate the body’s nervous system and initiate a healing response.

Dr. Hahnemann, the Father of Homeopathy, discovered that susceptibilities and tendencies toward disease occur when our normal healthy mechanisms break down. The sicknesses we suffer from today are not just rooted in this lifetime, but from hundreds of years of inheritance passed on to us in genome or genetic code. The remarkable restorative powers of homeopathy can actually clear and correct the inherited negative tendencies toward disease in both ourselves and our future offspring.

Dr. Hahnemann used the term miasm to describe the trans-generational causes to disease. The word miasm means an obstacle to cure, and Hahnemann asserted that unless the obstacle to cure is dealt with, the cure of disease would always be incomplete. In modern terminology, miasm means diathesis, constitutional susceptibility, or predisposition to a particular disease. The deeper roots of diseases – or miasms – can be traced back through generations to five primary diseases: Cancer, Gonorrhea (Sycotic), Syphilis, Tubercular (TB), and Psora. Miasms alter the ideal genetic blueprint for our health and can affect our entire being physically, mentally, and emotionally. Fortunately, miasms can be corrected and cleared from us with homeopathy.

The deeper we go in building and restoring our health to its highest levels, the greater our chances of discovering that we may actually have multiple miasms and perhaps all five. Miasms can be either acquired or inherited; though, the far majority of miasms are inherited. The chances of acquiring Miasms from thousands of years into our family tree are much greater than what we may have acquired in our own lifetime.

Inherited miasms can be active or dormant. An active miasm causes a present symptomatic picture or expression related to the symptoms associated with that miasm. A dormant miasm is one hidden deep within the body that is not expressing any of its possible symptoms. It is recommended not to attempt treating dormant miasms unless other testing procedures such as electro diagnostic or reflex response tests indicate the need for a specific miasm formula.

Miasms are not difficult to treat with homeopathy. Miasms exist in various layers within the body and as we work at correcting disease and building health, it is like peeling away the layers of an onion. Regular homeopathic formulas work to strengthen and restore health to the body according to the symptomatic expressions of the body. When these conditions tend to recur or be non-responsive, a deeper acting remedy, such as a miasm formula, may be needed to more completely correct the condition. As we continue to peel away disease layers that impair our normal healthy expressions, we will usually discover various miasms along the way.

The eradication of miasms is essential to both the restoration of our health and the elimination of disease from our planet. In our society of rapidly aging baby-boomers, it is the answer to helping people live longer, as well as healthier, lives.

Some more prominent indications, but certainly not an inclusive list for use of each miasm formula, are as follows:

- The cancer miasm formula might be considered for fatigue, difficulty sleeping, flu, mono, fears of unknown origin, childhood disorders, low self-esteem, and history of cancer in family. The cancer miasm patient may have difficulty thinking or making decisions.

- Indications for using the gonorrhea (sycotic) miasm include warts, allergies, musculo-skeletal aches, rheumatism, Candida, yeast, herpes, vaginal irritations, sinus, general inflammations of the mucus membranes, or history of sexual excesses. The sycotic miasm is the miasm of excess and relates to conditions such as drug abuse, alcoholism, greed, diabetes and auto-immune responses. Sycotic means “fig wart”. Dr. Hahnemann observed the common connection of infectious gonorrhea with small warts over the body. Although pronounced the same as “psychotic” it is not related and does not mean the same thing.
- The tubercular miasm formula might be tested on a person with colds, coughs, bronchitis, asthma, swollen glands, sore throats, night sweats, fears of animals, or great shifts in energy and mood.

- The syphilis miasm is the miasm of destruction. The brain, nervous system, blood and bone are targeted. It might be used for degenerative deforming conditions of the body, as well as mental and emotional sensitivities, mood changes, ulcers, cardiovascular weaknesses, alcoholism, pathological attachments to a person or idea, paranoia, self-sabotaging or destructive behavior.

- Psora means “itch” and psora miasm is considered the miasm of deficiency affecting the bowel and skin, primarily. Psora is the oldest known miasm and is referred to as the “mother of chronic disease.” A few of the indications for use are allergies, itching, acne, skin eruptions, eczema, psoriasis, toxemia, fears, low self-esteem and learning disabilities.

It is important to note that the presence of a miasm does not necessarily indicate that one has acquired this disease in their lifetime. The probability is that you have inherited the miasm from generations ago.

In addition to miasms, there are homeopathic formulas designed to correct the predispositions to specific cancers, heart diseases and diabetes. These products can be proactively applied to help correct these predispositions. Homeopathy empowers the chiropractor to address both the predispositions as well as the actual diseases.

By proactively applying homeopathy in this protocol, we can more practically and safely correct the primary health problems of our society. In North Carolina, we have been taught to apply the Barney Fife philosophy of “nipping it in the bud”.

Homeopathy not only offers the safest products on the planet with no side effects and no known negative drug interactions, but now we can minimize practice risks by proactively helping people before they develop the more volatile high risk diseases. By letting your patients know this, you will bring them great comfort.

As chiropractors, we have focused on correcting the underlying causes to disease. With homeopathy we can now dynamically expand this focus in the most significant applications. Homeopathy, with its vast accumulation of research and proven clinical data, can empower you, the chiropractor, to make a more significant healing impact on society.

Choosing to help people in this realm will grow your reputation as a valued authority and expert. You will
- become more highly honored as an innovative and pioneering doctor of greater value;
- develop a more fulfilling doctor/patient bond and relationship;
- develop greater patient respect;
- have patients who will better follow your instructions and program;
- develop greater patient loyalty;
- generate more love, appreciation, hugs and happy tears that create that inner fulfillment beyond measure.

The greater the diversity of problems you help with homeopathy (from the headaches to the hemorrhoids), the greater the stability of your practice. And as your service to the patient becomes more substantial, their commitment to long-term wellness care becomes greater. With a contemporary procedural system for homeopathy, you can enjoy the benefits of a high volume practice with the greater rewards of a broad-spectrum practice. Enjoy the journey!

-----------------------------

Frank J. King Jr., N.D., D.C. is the founder and director of King Bio, an FDA registered, homeopathic manufacturing company dedicated to completing chiropractic destiny with homeopathy. Dr. King is a nationally recognized researcher, author, and lecturer on homeopathy and is currently acting as the homeopathic columnist or contributing editor for Dynamic Chiropractic, Chiropractic Economics, American Chiropractor, and DC Products Review.